

Ki Shiatsu Therapy

DIPLOMA TRAINING IN THE TAO OF NATURAL HEALING

with Ken McLean Sensei

Traditional Dojo Style Training

Ki Shiatsu is a powerful and unique Healing Art based on the deepest understanding of Ki (energy) and Oriental Medicine and Philosophy. Its development has been influenced by Ken McLean's 43 years experience in Ki development, Aikido, Macrobiotics and Shiatsu.

Ken McLean is one of Australia's longest serving Shiatsu practitioners and Holistic Health Counsellors. He has helped thousands of people actualise greater health including people who were previously considered incurable. He has also trained many people to be practitioners including those who now have professional practises in Australia and other countries.

Dojo is the traditional name given to places where spiritual, martial and healing arts were originally practised. Now becoming lost and commercialised, Ken McLean remains dedicated to maintaining this timeless approach to human development.

Training Includes:

- The art of giving Ki Shiatsu treatment.
- The philosophy of Oriental Medicine.
- The Basic, Intermediate and Advanced Form.
- Visual and touch diagnosis for instant health and character evaluation.
- Special techniques for activating Ki flow.
- Macrobiotic nutrition and medicinal foods.
- Knowing the points (tsubo) and meridians (energy pathways of the body).
- The profound function of energy, body emotion and mind.
- Ki principles in the Art of treatment.
